

We're Patate Blau,

mixing guitar (Roberta Dragone) and voice (Irene De Matteis) with the power of words.

Our songs talk about everyday life, bringing out what is extraordinary in something ordinary, like the blue in a potato.

The sound ranges from blues, traditional music through classical music, composing original songs full of passion and energy.

We have a repertoire that combines also moments of cabaret and improvisation, making our performances very site specific.

Bio

Roberta Dragone is a songwriter and guitarist, with an interest for more instruments too. Classical music studies accompanied to a no-classical mind make a perfect mix to do something simple and creative.

Irene De Matteis is a multifaceted performer graduated in Philosophy of Language and Theatre/Dance. She specialised in performance using art in unconventional spaces and areas. Based in Berlin she focused on jazz sing, finding in music the perfect mix of her passion for writing and performance.
